SUBJECT: C&C Landfill Recycling Center

Calhoun County initiated a pilot program which gave residents free access to the C&C Landfill recycling center starting August 6, 2018. This program has continued past the initial pilot period. During the pandemic, Calhoun County began to issue landfill recycling pass cards, in addition to the cards available through the local units of government. Residents can request a pass from the Calhoun County website through the Recycling and Solid Waste Department page.

The Solid Waste Program would like to share the data we have collected over the past year and half with our local units of government. Residents continue to participate in this recycling center program, and it allows for drop-off recycling access 6 days a week. These charts will let you know if you have residents using the landfill recycling center and give you an idea of its overall use. Over the past year, several recycling centers in our county have closed both permanently and temporarily or had to modify their operations. This program has allowed us to continue to provide recycling service as we have faced staffing challenges due to the pandemic

C&C Landfill recycling center program passes continue to be available for all Calhoun County residents who are currently not served by a single hauler recycling contract or must pay an additional fee to recycle. Please let us know if you need more passes to distribute. The program is limited to residential recycling. The recycling center, located at 14800 P Drive N., Marshall, is a single stream location which allows residents to place their loose recycling in a single roll-off container. It is open Monday through Friday 7:00 AM to 4:30 PM and Saturday 7:00 AM to 12:00 PM.
